27th San Diego International Summit on Violence, Abuse, & Trauma Across the Lifespan
August 28th – August 31st, 2022 | San Diego, CA

“Our Vision is a world free from violence, abuse, and trauma.”

The theme of the 27th San Diego International Summit on Violence, Abuse, and Trauma Across the Lifespan was Amplifying Voices for Recovery, Resilience, Reconciliation, and Reformation! The Summit was held August 28th – August 31st, 2022 and included presentations and symposia by researchers, practitioners, advocates, policymakers, and consumers/survivors concerning adult survivors of abuse and trauma, child maltreatment/Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs), adolescent trauma, historical trauma, systemic trauma, and marginalized populations, intimate partner violence for both victims/survivors and offenders, labor and sex trafficking, legal and criminal justice issues, primary prevention and early intervention, sexual victimization, trauma among first responders, military personnel, veterans and their families, and trauma in general. We were thrilled to be back together again in person at the Hyatt Regency La Jolla.

Attendees

855 people were involved in one or more activities throughout the week including the National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence Across the Lifespan (NPEIV) Annual Think Tank which drew 40 participants. 270 Summit attendees were from California and 143 people represented the San Diego County area. From across the country, 44 states were represented. We had international representation from 11 additional countries and US Territories (Canada, Guam, Northern Mariana Islands, Israel, New Zealand, Philippines, Republic of (South) Korea, Taiwan, Scotland, Great Britain, and the United States) and 39 international attendees. Summit attendees included Social Workers, Psychologists, Marriage and Family Therapists, Advocates, Attorneys, Judges, Law Enforcement Professionals, U.S. Military members, Probation and Parole Officers, Clergy, Nurses, Physicians, Policy Makers, Administrators, Students, former victims/survivors, parents, and others.

Co-Sponsors and Collaborating Organizations

Portions of our Summit were supported by our generous sponsors, Sutter Health, Department of Health Hawai'i; Child and Adolescent Mental Health Division, Hope and Heal Fund, National Network to End Domestic Violence, Simmons University, and the San Diego Psychological Association. 181 organizations collaborated and supported the event by assisting in publicity. Promotional and marketing materials were sent to all collaborators to distribute to their networks and mailing lists. They provide publicity through their own websites by posting our website links and flyers. Collaborators received a listing on our website including their company or organization description and were also promoted through our mobile event app.

National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence Across the Lifespan (NPEIV): 14th Annual Think Tank

NPEIV is a partnership of people, organizations, agencies, and coalitions working together on a national, multi-disciplinary, cross-cultural scale to end interpersonal violence. Their mission is to advance diversity, inclusion, equity, and quality in research, practice, policy, and advocacy to end interpersonal violence. NPEIV believes it is a basic human right to be safe at home, safe at school, safe in the community, and safe when interacting with the institutions of our society. This year, the annual Think Tank was held on August 27th, 2022, at the Hyatt Regency La Jolla, and new and returning members came together, committed to reducing interpersonal violence and its consequences through scientific research and application of observed findings.

(Dr. Alissa Ackerman)

This year's Think Tank opened with an introduction to NPEIV and a welcome message from NPEIV President, Dr. Shelly Wagers. The Keynote Speaker, Dr. Alissa Ackerman, spoke on "Building Safe Communities: Restorative Justice as a Path Towards Connection and Healing" and discussed the importance of the need to heal the intimate harm caused by violence through connection. She explained how restorative justice offers that connection via unique pathways for addressing the needs expressed by those impacted by interpersonal harm. Following Dr. Ackerman's presentation, Dr. Wagers gave an overview of the NPEIV National Plan and how the plan connects to the work of the partnership's five Action Teams.

This year attendees focused on two projects: a training grant focused on creating a community-based violence intervention and prevention program, and the development of trauma-informed financial services. NPEIV encourages you to join us on our mission and become a part of a wide network of individuals and organizations dedicated to standing up against interpersonal violence and its consequences. Membership information, Executive Summaries, the National Plan, and our impact are available on our website, www.npeiv.org. Save the Date and join NPEIV by registering for the next annual Think Tank on Saturday, August 26th, 2023.

MEGA^f Specialized Risk Assessment Training and Spousal Abuse Risk Assessment (SARA) v3

Two affiliated trainings took place prior to the start of the 27th Summit including the MEGA^f Specialized Risk Assessment Training, with 7 people attending on Friday, August 27th, presented by L.C. Miccio-Fonseca, PhD, a NPEIV Board member and researcher with the Clinic for the Sexualities. MEGA^f is a tool for assessing risk for coarse sexual improprieties, and/or sexually abusive behaviors in youth ages 4-19. MEGA^f is applicable for adjudicated or non-adjudicated males, females, and transgender individuals, including youth with low intellectual functioning. Robustly anchored in scientific methods and tested on over 4,000 youth internationally (largest validation studies in its field), MEGA^f is state of the art and unique. It provides a comprehensive individualized risk assessment report according to age and gender. MEGA^f can also follow changes in the youth's risk level over time (an outcome measure). This training provides certification on how to administer the assessment, as well as how to interpret and apply the MEGA^f findings.

The final affiliated training was offered by Elizabeth Gilchrist, PhD, University of Edinburgh. 14 people attended the in person Spousal Abuse Risk Assessment (SARA) v3 Training on Saturday, August 28th. The SARA v3 is an evidence-based decision support tool for assessing and managing risk for intimate partner violence. The third version of the SARA, released in 2015, incorporates all the recent advances in structured professional judgement risk assessment. The SARA has been subjected to scientific evaluation, translated into numerous languages, and used in dozens of countries. This primary aim of the workshop was to ensure that delegates felt confident when assessing clients using the SARA v3 and to develop awareness of how risk management plans can be formulated.

Summit Presenters

The impact of COVID-19 was seen in a smaller number of submissions received from the public this year. 60 submissions were received from all over the world, on a wide range of interpersonal violence issues. IVAT added an additional 47 presentations to total 107 sessions. The 11 tracks offered included presentations on Adult Survivors of Abuse and Trauma, Child Maltreatment/Adverse Childhood Experiences (ACEs)/Adolescent Trauma, Historical Trauma, Systemic Trauma, and Marginalized Populations, Intimate Partner Violence: Offenders, Intimate Partner Violence: Victims/Survivors, Labor and Sex Trafficking, Legal and Criminal Justice Issues, Primary Prevention/Early Intervention, Sexual Victimization, Trauma Among First Responders, Military Personnel, Veterans and Their Families, and Trauma in General. Presentations covered best practices, research, treatment, prevention, policies, and program information. There were more than 221 presenters involved in the Summit, including more than 90 invited speakers and 8 international presenters. Highlighted sessions are noted below.

Special Sessions

Ten keynote panels provided training and discussion on the following topics: A National Strategy to End Child Sexual Abuse, Historical Trauma and Reconciliation Efforts, Alternative and Innovative Techniques in Treating Intimate Partner Violence Offenders, Specialty Populations in Intimate Partner Violence Victims/Survivors, Current Issues in Human Trafficking Prevention and Intervention, Taming an Escalating, Out-of-Control Epidemic: Gun Violence Prevention and Mental Health, The Use of ACEs Science to Promote Early Intervention and Prevention, Trauma Issues for Sexual Assault Survivors, Trauma-Informed Care and Law Enforcement Responses, and Trauma-Informed Care for Victims of Trauma.

(Robert Geffner, Sujata Warriar, Wendy Murphy, Patina Park, Azim Khamisa, Mary Jo Barret, Sandi Capuano Morrison)

This year's Roundtable Plenary was titled Responding to Oppression, Victimization, Hate, and Violence: Bridging the Polarized Divide. Panelists, Azim Khamisa, Tariq Khamisa Foundation, Mary Jo Barrett, MSW, Center for Contextual Change, Wendy Murphy, JD, New England Law, Boston, Sujata Warriar, PhD, Battered Women's Justice Project, and Patina Park, JD, Minicoujou Lakota – Cheyenne River, discussed questions on the causes of polarization, how it has contributed to political violence and how individuals can take part in changing the current climate. The Roundtable was moderated by Robert Geffner, PhD, ABN, ABPP, Founding President of the Institute on Violence Abuse, and Trauma (IVAT), National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence (NPEIV) Board Member, and Sandi Capuano Morrison, MA, CEO of the Institute on Violence Abuse, and Trauma (IVAT), National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence (NPEIV) Board Member.

Five Parallel Plenaries held on Tuesday, August 30th, covered the following topics: Community-Led Gun Violence: It's Everyone's Responsibility, Global Violence and Addressing the Rise in Hate Crimes, Policy Issues in Prevention of Domestic Violence and Coercive Control, Alienation vs. Abuse vs. Poor Parenting: Controversies in Family Court Child Custody Cases, and Prevention of Child and Adolescent Abuse and Neglect.

Summit Opening Plenary and Ceremonies, Sunday August 28th, 2022

The Summit Opening Plenary and Ceremonies moderated by IVAT's CEO, Sandi Capuano Morrison, MA, started with introducing Erica Pinto, Chairwoman of the Jamul Indian Village of California, who shared a Native American Blessing.

The Opening Plenary featured welcoming remarks by Sandi Capuano Morrison, MA, IVAT, and Melissa Diaz, JD, Chief of the Family Protection Division at the San Diego District Attorney's Office, and Plenary Speaker, Camille Cooper, Survivor/Advocate, who presented Transforming Trauma: One Mother's Journey Turning Victimization into National Change.

(Camille Cooper)

Poster Sessions

Poster Sessions were held on Monday, August 29th, and included 43 posters, which were divided into 6 different categories, and presented by an outstanding group of students, researchers, and practitioners from around the world. With over 400 guests in attendance, the presenters were able to share their research with a 50-minute explanation and 2-minute attendee question and answer period. Attendees were able to network with professionals from a variety of fields during the Networking Reception immediately following the poster presentations.

Prior to the Poster Sessions, judges viewed the posters on the IVAT website. Three awards were presented after judges reviewed and identified those that best represent innovative and relevant information in the fields of violence, abuse, and trauma. This year's winners of the B.B. Robbie Rossman Annual Memorial Child Maltreatment Research Award, which was established to honor Dr. Robbie Rossman, a pioneer in research focused on family violence, child maltreatment, and the impact of intimate partner violence on children, was awarded to Valéry Dubé for her poster "Alexithymia as a Mediator Between Intimate Partner Violence and Post-Traumatic Stress Symptoms in Mothers of Sexually Abused Children". Two awards were given on behalf of the National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence Across the Lifespan (NPEIV). The NPEIV Founders Award, established by the Board of NPEIV to acknowledge significant contributions to the prevention of interpersonal violence that exemplify the goals of NPEIV to be integrative in research, practice, policy or advocacy, was presented to Daniela Sarmiento Hernandez for her poster "Ethno-racial Trauma and Mindfulness Approaches for Latinx Communities in the U.S." and Emily Smith for her poster "Sexual Coercion, Intimate Partner Violence, and Homicide: A Scoping Literature Review". The NPEIV Murray Straus Interpersonal Violence Original Research Award, presented annually to individuals or organizations making significant contributions of original research conducted on the integration of multiple forms of interpersonal violence, was awarded to Olivia Backley, Taryn Thrasher, Diana Than, and Courtney Ahrens, for their poster "Ethnic Differences in Secondary Victimization Levels Among Survivors of Intimate Partner Violence".

Summit Closing Plenary and Ceremonies, Tuesday, August 30th, 2022

(Reid Meloy, Inu Akerei (Rei) Maresala-Thomson)

The Summit Closing Plenary was held on Tuesday, August 30th, beginning with closing remarks from Sandi Capuano Morrison, MA, followed by two plenary presentations.

J. Reid Meloy, PhD, University of California, and San Diego Psychoanalytic Center, presented on “Mass Attacks, Mental Disorder, and Radicalization”, and Inu Akerei Maresala-Thomson (Rei), MBA, Trust MYRIVR, presented “Addressing Pasifika Trauma Through Mentoring and Innovation”.

Awards

NPEIV presented two awards on Saturday, August 27th at its annual Think Tank. The awards included the National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence Across the Lifespan (NPEIV) Paul fink Interpersonal Violence Prevention Award, which was presented to Sherry Hamby, PhD, a Research Professor of Psychological at the University of the South, and Director of the Life Paths Research Center. She is also Founder and Co-Chair of ResilienceCon. Dr. Hamby is an internationally recognized authority on victimization and trauma who is best known for her work in poly-victimization, resilience, and violence measurement. A licensed clinical psychologist, Dr. Hamby has worked for more than 25 years on the problem of violence, including front-line crisis intervention and treatment, involvement in grassroots organizations, and researcher.

The National Partnership to End Interpersonal Violence Across the Lifespan (NPEIV) Heritage Service Award was presented to Pearl Berman, PhD, the immediate Past-President of NPEIV. She is a Full Professor, in the Psychology Department at Indiana University of PA (IUP) and a licensed, clinical psychologist with a specialty in providing treatment to victims of child abuse, neglect, and family violence. She integrates information and skill-building relevant to interpersonal violence throughout her teaching at both the undergraduate and doctoral level. She is the second author of NPEIV’s National Plan to End Interpersonal Violence in Three Generations. She was also a member of The National Committee to Prevent Elder Abuse, The Academy on Violence and Abuse, and The American Psychological Association. She collaborated with others to turn the Zero Abuse Project’s Child Advocacy Studies Program into a program focused on violence across the lifespan. She is the co-director of the Child and Adult Advocacy Studies programming at IUP.

IVAT was honored to present the following awards during the Networking and Awards Luncheon on Tuesday, August 29th.

The Distinguished Service Award for Excellence in Media and Film was presented to Directors Amy Herdy, Amy Ziering, and Kirby Dick for the documentary Allen V. Farrow, a stunning and insightful look into sexual abuse and the failures of the family court system. We also applaud the informative Podcasts that allowed viewers to learn more about the important concepts introduced in the film. Many survivors contacted providers and our organizations stating how much the film resonated with their own experiences. The film also serves to educate the legal system on some of the impediments to prosecuting child sexual abuse in young children.

The Linda Saltzman Memorial Intimate Partner Violence Researcher Award was presented to Alytia Levendosky, PhD, a clinical psychologist and full professor at Michigan State University in the Department of Psychology. She studies the effects of intimate partner violence (IPV) during pregnancy and early parenting, as well as the effects of associated stressors on the mother, child, and the mother-child relationship. She is currently funded with 2 ROIs to study a cohort of pregnant highly stressed women to understand the effects of timing of prenatal stress, including IPV, on children's early markers of psychopathology. The study follows pregnant women from 15 weeks of pregnancy until their child is age 4.

The Lifetime Achievement in Family Violence and Child Abuse Advocacy Award was presented to Victor Vieth, JD, MA, the Chief Program Officer for Education and Research at Zero Abuse Project. He is a former child abuse prosecutor who went on to direct the National Center for Prosecution of Child Abuse. He has been instrumental in developing 22 state and international forensic interview training programs and dozens of undergraduate and graduate programs on child abuse. In 2021, the United States Department of Justice, Office of Victims of Crime, awarded Victor the Victim's Rights Legend Award in recognition of the significant contributions he had made to the field over an extended period of time.

The William Friedrich Memorial Child Sexual Abuse Research, Assessment and/or Treatment Award was presented to Thomas Lyon, JD, PhD, a Judge Edward J. Ruey L. Guiardo Chair in Law and Psychology at the University of Southern California. His goal is to identify the most productive means of questioning children about abuse and violence. He is the Past-President of the American Psychological Association's Section on Child Maltreatment (Division 37) and a former member of the Board of Directors of the American Professional Society on the Abuse of Children. His work has been supported by the National Institutes of Health, the National Science Foundation, the United States Department of Justice, the National Center on Child Abuse and Neglect, the California Endowment, and the Haynes Foundation.

The Rosalie S. Wolf Memorial Elder Abuse Prevention Award was presented to Mary Beth Morrissey, PhD, JD, MPH, Yeshiva University, an aging and health policy professor and policy advocate in the field of elder abuse. Dr. Morrissey is a past president of the State Society on Aging of New York and past president of the former National Committee of Elder Abuse. She has authored numerous publications addressing elder abuse, including serving as co-editor of Abuse in Later Life in R. Geffner, Handbook of Interpersonal Violence. She presently sits on the American Psychological Association Committee on Aging.

The IVAT Community Volunteer of the Year Award was presented to Raquel Buchanan, MA, LMFT, a licensed marriage and family therapist in Palm Springs, CA. Raquel is clinically trained in Motivational Interviewing and enjoys working with clients who "don't really want to be in therapy". She is a doctoral candidate at Grand Canyon University where she focuses on developing instructional material to improve learning outcomes for individuals with mental illness and learning disabilities. Raquel has offered excellent topic and speaker suggestions for the Summit's program, as well as helping to advance our marketing efforts through the EPIC podcast and video testimonials.

The Returning Veteran's Resiliency in Response to Trauma Award was presented to Sarah Skelton, PsyD, a combat veteran who has served in the United States National Guard for over 15 years. She has served as a Victim Advocate with the Department of Defense from 2012-2020. She is a Behavioral Health Officer and regularly conducts training, provides consultation, and conducts assessments on suicide prevention and intervention, PTSD/PTS and TBI, Sexual Assault, drug and alcohol abuse, resiliency and overall wellness with soldiers still currently serving. She served on Sexual Assault Response Boards as a subject matter expert in 2020. She clinically specializes in trauma and is trained in CPT, PE, EMDR, and Seeking Safety. Additionally, she provides pro bono services to Asylum seekers, and refugees who have experienced trauma.

The Donald R. Fridley Memorial Award for Excellence in Training and Mentoring was presented to Dorothy Espelage, PhD, a William C. Friday Distinguished Professor of Education at the University of North Carolina. She is the recipient of the APA Lifetime Achievement Award in Prevention Science and the 2016 APA Award for Distinguished Contributions to Research in Public Policy, and is a Fellow of APS, APA, and AERA. She was recently elected to the National Academy of Education and awarded the SPR Prevention Science Award in 2020. Over the last 22 years, she has authored over 230 peer-reviewed articles, seven edited books, and 80 chapters on bullying, homophobic teasing, sexual harassment, dating violence, and gang violence and mentored many students in her research labs. Her research focuses on translating empirical findings into prevention and intervention programming and she has secured over 15 million dollars of external funding.

Volunteers

We are grateful for the 36 volunteers who donated their time and energy during the Summit. Volunteers assisted the event as session monitors, as well as providing support for registration, continuing education, bookstore, and the exhibit hall/overall summit needs. Collectively, the volunteers provided the Summit with more than 385 hours of valuable support. The commitment and contribution of the volunteers is what made it all possible and ultimately aided IVAT in staging one of our most successful Summits. Many of the volunteers expressed that this was a great experience to be a part of, and that this was most definitely a unique training and networking event. Several were enthusiastic about returning next year to work for the 28th International Summit and have expressed interest in joining the Planning Committee and long-term volunteer opportunities.

(Raffle Winners at Closing Plenary and Ceremonies)

Planning Committee

We are appreciative of our San Diego Planning Committee and all they do to help build a successful Summit year after year! This year's Planning Committee was comprised of 32 multidisciplinary, and diverse, individuals. Members met once per month to assist IVAT in creating the Summit theme, reviewing submission proposals, suggesting, and inviting new presenters from their communities and networks, building the program tracks, and much more. Members also participated in subcommittees to further focus and support different aspects of the Summit. Many of the Planning Committee Members not only dedicated time to building the program prior to the Summit but assisted onsite by volunteering where needed. Thank you again, to all our Planning Committee Members!

Continuing Education

231 professionals received continuing education credits for attending the Summit and Affiliated Trainings. The Summit offered up to 22.5 hours (34.5 hours for Summit and Affiliated Training combined) of continuing education for Psychologists, Counselors, Marriage and Family Therapists, Social Workers, Nurses, Attorneys, Domestic Violence Offender Treatment Providers, Substance Abuse Counselors, Victim Advocates, and Traumatic Stress Specialists. CE credits approved by California agencies are accepted in most states. Different sessions meet many licensure requirements for continuing education credits for child abuse, domestic violence, ethics, aging, substance abuse, child custody, domestic violence offender treatment, and child sexual abuse.

Exhibitors

20 exhibitors took advantage of our exhibit hall and included partner organizations - non-profits and private businesses - in the fields of family violence, trauma-informed services, child maltreatment, sexual assault, community leaders, and marketing. Future exhibitions showcasing local art therapy, pet therapy or trauma-responsive projects will be highly encouraged to participate at the 28th International San Diego Summit.

Self-Care

Each year we work to expand the opportunities for self-care at the Summit. This year we again provided multiple self-care sessions which incorporated yoga, journaling and mindfulness, and guided meditation and breath work. We also had a dedicated self-care room where attendees could disconnect from the content of the Summit and engage in personal self-care activities throughout the week. Clinical staff were available for any attendee needing support.

Bookstore

IVAT continued to offer attendees many books through the bookstore which includes various educational resources for clinicians, advocates, attorneys, nurses, social service and criminal justice personnel, and others at a reduced rate. The bookstore offered hundreds of titles, including treatment manuals, and books related to family violence, trauma, child maltreatment, elder abuse, youth violence, and sexual assault. Attendees and the general public can continue to purchase books by visiting: <https://www.ivatcenters.org/bookstore>

Evaluations

The overall Summit evaluations showed a high satisfaction, with the overall indicators rating 98.9% of attendees would recommend the Summit to others, and the overall satisfaction indicators rating showed an average of 4.46 on a 5-point scale. 98.2% reported the Summit met or exceeded their goals for attending. Many wonderful comments were received from the Summit attendees, including:

- It was inspirational, motivational, and beneficial. You have to be inspired in order to help others and with that you need to have the knowledge in order to benefit those you serve.
- Quality of presenters; relevant topics; and variety of options!
- The wide range of speakers; multiple opportunities to learn about cultural issues, and the continental breakfast.
- Well-organized event, good topics/balance of topics, and excellent support staff!
- Enjoyed hearing the lived experiences of some presenters; inspired me to keep doing the work; data to back up the work we are all doing.
- Very well organized! The availability of emotional support, the ease in purchasing and getting lunches, maintaining the session schedules, and excellent topics and presenters!
